School Age Child Care

January 2018

We hope that you and your families had a wonderful holiday season. Thank you all for the thoughtful gifts that you brought for our terrific staff! Everyone really appreciated them. The children enjoyed the holiday activities that went on here at the center and as we begin this New Year, we are looking forward to a lot more fun!

Please remember to call the center each day if your child will not be here and please label all clothing items that you bring into the center! Thank you!

Closings

We will be closed on Monday, January 1st for New Years and on Monday, January 15th in observance of Martin Luther King, Jr., Day.

I have a dream...

Parent Feedback Week

Observation reports will be distributed during the week of January 15th. Additionally, there is a Parent Feedback Questionnaire attached to this newsletter which can be completed (anonymously if you choose) and put in the red tuition box by January 26th. Please feel free to provide feedback on this sheet (positive or negative) about the center. We take your input seriously as we try to provide the best care for your children.

SACC show!

On Thursday, January 18th, Party Magic will be here at 4:30 to perform for the kids! Always a fun time for everyone!

Teacher Workdays

The Fairfax County Public Schools are closed on Friday, January 26th and Monday, January 29th. A Child's Place will be open and have planned the following activities for the children:

Friday, January 26th - go to Chuck-E-Cheese (lunch included)

Monday, January 29th - movies (TBD), please pack a lunch this day

In the next couple of weeks, we will post a sign-up sheet for these days. There is an additional charge of $25 per day if your child joins us on Friday or Monday. If your child does not attend, you are still responsible for the regular weekly payment.

Inclement Weather

Please review the inclement weather policy from our corporate office attached to this newsletter.

Hope you have a great month!!
Sincerely,

Jill
